Dear Mom, Dad & all,

I'm well settled in Italy again. Came back to find plenty of mail awaiting me including the letter you wrote after I left Gary. I suppose Eva Love has written you a full account of our experiences after then and until I left the States on the 30th. Washington was beautiful and we enjoyed our couple of days there – all except the last few minutes. My lonely trip back was uneventful and a trifle slower than my trip over, but I enjoyed the stops at interesting places.

Now I can fully appreciate all I enjoyed while there at home. The house was beautiful and you all looked so well. I'm happy about that. Also, Dad, I appreciated the delicious cake. Hope I may have some more of the same

when I return again. Also, I expect to have a famous singing sister before too long.

I know you must think I'm quite unreasonable but I could improve after I had been back for a while. My stay was much too short to really accomplish much in the way of visiting because I did want to get a rest while I had the chance. Decatur is a wonderful place to hide and relax. Eva Love is perfect company too but I'm afraid she will spoil me with her unselfishness and the way she cares for me. I realize that you do not know her thoroughly yet but she is as close to perfection as I or anyone could expect to find. Of course I think she is perfect. My idea of beauty.

Thanks again for everything.

Love, Bob.
