PSALM 23 (King James Version)

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil; for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

THE DORCHESTER COAT OF ARMS

The Coat of Arms of the Dorchester family is on the cover of this book and has an interesting history, according to heraldry sources. The Dorchesters represented one of the old and distinguished families of England, known for their high social standing from the time of the Norman Conquest (1066). The name was given to one of the English landmarks, Dorchester County.

There were titles of nobility in the family and a Baron Dorchester was continued for several generations. The name was also "Dorsetshire" when applied to place names.

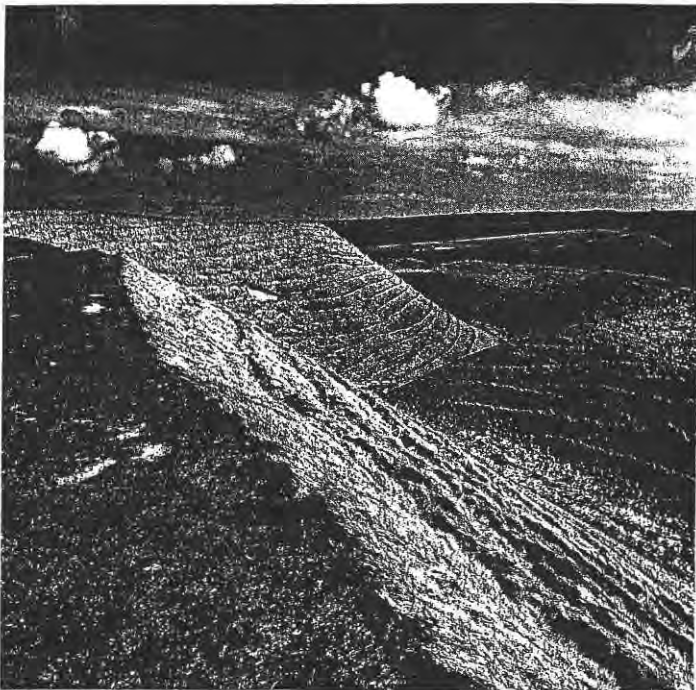

The grant of the Coat of Arms was confirmed at the old College of Arms in London at a very early date, and its simple design is due to its antiquity. It bears no motto, as these were not used in this early period. There are six lions in the design, and the lion was considered to be "king of the beasts". Thus the lion became one of the most popular and honorable symbols in the blazoning of the family crest. The lion represented courage and strength, and the "rampant" lions in the Dorchester Coat of Arms are standing erect as if to make an attack. The gold colors symbolize unblemished honor and high elevation of mind, while the black color stands for dignity and sobriety.

A STEP BACK IN HISTORY

The name Dorchester goes back to a city and county in southern England. The city is one of the oldest in Europe. The settlement itself goes back to 4500 B.C. London, by comparison, goes back no further than 50 A.D. By the time the Roman traders had set up shop in London, Dorchester was already a center for aboriginal Neolithic farmers, who built a meeting and trading place there, the mysterious Megalithic Builders, whose henge temple still stands near the town center. Dorchester was the stone-built Roman town or "ceaster" for administering the Celtic Durogriges tribe or "dur". The giant oval embankment of Maumbury Rings served the Romans as the town amphitheatre. It wasn't built by the Romans, or even the Celts, but by the mysterious Late Stone Age civilization known as the Megalithic Builders. They built a henge or circular embanked temple (like Avebury and Stonehenge) about 2500 BC.

The Romans arrived in Britain in 55 B.C. and they exacted tributes from many of the local tribes, the Catubellaceni and Ordovicis in Wales, the Brigantes, Durogriges and other tribes in southeastern England. The Iceni tribe, led by Queen Boudica, tried to drive out the Romans, but her troops were defeated in 61 A.D. The Romans built Hadrian's Wall in 122 A.D. to separate the Romans from the barbarians, the Calidonians (Scots) in the north. Until the Romans came and rebuilt Dorchester in the first century A.D., the Celtic Durogriges ruled the region and that is where they built Europe's largest hillfort called Maiden Castle (45 acres in all). This is where aristocratic leaders of the British Celts lived in circular timber houses, kept their garrison and stored the booty they collected as taxes for protecting the region's farmers

Thomas Hardy was born and lived in Dorchester and his novels are written with Dorchester (his Casterbridge) in mind. Dorchester was also home to Anthony Dorchester, our Progenitor. Prince Charles, Duke of Cornwall, owns much of the buildable land in this area and is known for his concern for the environment.

Special Note: All of the State and Provincial flowers, flags and seals (from World Book Encyclopedia) have a unique purpose in this Genealogy. They symbolize the States of the United States of America and the Provinces of Canada through which the Dorchester families traveled as they headed west to California and north to Canada. The Dorchesters were indeed pioneers who represented the true spirit of America and Canada at its very best. We are forever indebted to them.

INTRODUCTION

This book is a SUPPLEMENT to the rather comprehensive Dorchester Family Genealogy published in 1998 under the title, ANTHONY DORCHESTER AND HIS DESCENDANTS. The reason for this SUPPLEMENT is not to make minor corrections or updates, but to include two significant branches of the Dorchester family, one in California and one in Canada, who were omitted through a unique circumstance. They were left out of the 1998 Genealogy through an error in the public records. Here is how it happened.

In the sixth generation of Dorchester descendants (page 33 in the 1998 Genealogy) David Dorchester III and his wife Hannah of Vernon, Tolland County, Connecticut, had three children: Caroline Dorchester, Halsey Dorchester, and Susan McLean Dorchester. Only Susan is listed in the genealogy because the first two children, Caroline and Halsey, were inadvertently not recorded at the Vernon Town Hall. Thus no record of their lives or progeny was available to researchers and genealogists. Providentially, all three children lived and their Dorchester lineage continues to our day.

The mystery of the missing children (Caroline and Halsey) was solved in the spring of 2006 when a Dorchester descendant (unknown to us) in California, Attorney Thomas Gede, wrote that he had proof that his family and the Canadian Dorchesters were all descendants of Anthony Dorchester and indeed a part of our family. This SUPPLEMENT to the Dorchester Genealogy will include and welcome our new-found relatives from California and Canada. Here is what happened to those family lines deriving from the two non-recorded children in Vernon, Connecticut, in the early 1800's.

Caroline Dorchester married Joel Stimson, and they moved to Ontario, Canada, in 1825. (It is interesting to note here that The Stimson Family Manuscript, written in 1898 by an E.P. Stimson, gave all of this early information.) Both Joel Stimson and his wife, Caroline, died in Canada, but one of their sons went to Michigan. His granddaughter settled in California and her daughter married Robert Gede, the father of Thomas Gede, the lawyer and researcher who found the vital connection that tied Caroline and Halsey to Vernon, Connecticut, and into our family tree. Thus he also found the Canadian Dorchesters to be in a direct line to our family.

Halsey Dorchester, Caroline's brother, and his family went West and he died in Illinois; his son David went farther West and died in Idaho. David's son, Wesley Jerome Dorchester, became a stockman, acquired land in Alberta, Canada, and moved there. His children were Wesley Leonard, Caroline Rose, Villa August, and Thomas Walter Dorchester, who became a champion chuck wagon racer. In the winter of 2003, Caroline Rose Dorchester Shantz was searching for her roots and although she believed her ancestor came from Vernon, Connecticut, I was unable to find a birth record for him but did find a marriage record for him in that town and there the search ended until now.

Now let me give you some background from the 1998 Dorchester Genealogy entitled, "Anthony Dorchester and His Descendants", for which this book is a Supplement, providing new information on the family line. In the summer of 1964, our family was given the Dorchester Pedigree written in 1902 by Dr. Daniel Dorchester III (1827-1907). His granddaughter, Cleora B. Woods (1887-1980) knew that we would like to have a copy and it has been the basis of much of the research that I have done on this genealogy. Daniel Dorchester carefully researched the names of all the wives of the Dorchesters down through the generations except for the first wife of Anthony Dorchester, the progenitor. Her last name is not known. In most cases he knew the name of each wife's parents, but he only went into detail with his own mother's ancestry, as she was the descendant of William Brewster of the "Mayflower". Her name was Mary Ann Otis. Apparently he had no idea that through this Otis line, she was also the descendant of William and Alice Mullins, Priscilla Mullins, John Alden, and Richard Warren, who also were passengers on the "Mayflower".

In Daniel Dorchester III's opening statement, he mentions that a John Dorchester was the Prior of a monastery in England in 1534. After a trip to Dorchester, Dorset, England, in 1971, we communicated with the local Rector and the County Librarian at Colliton Park, Dorchester, a Mr. K. Carter, A.L.A, and he gave us two references regarding the use of Dorchester as a surname. From a manuscript in Volume XLIII, page 60, relating to the Manor of Sturminster Marshall, John Dorchester is listed as Prior of Christ Church, Twynham, and the convent there.

Localities bearing the name Dorchester are common in England and in the United States. The name of Lord Dorchester appears in English history, and a Lord Dorchester was the Governor of Canada near the end of the eighteenth century. The first settler in the English colonies bearing this Dorchester name was Anthony Dorchester.

Listed among the early settlers of Windsor, Hartford County, Connecticut, was Anthony Dorchester, who arrived from England via Hingham, Massachusetts. He is not, however, listed with the "Mary and John" passengers who settled Windsor, Connecticut, so obviously he came a short time later. We know nothing of his background in England, but he is the Progenitor and Founder of our Dorchester family.

Mr. Carter, the County Librarian in Dorchester, Dorset, England, made the following statement in a letter to us dated June 28, 1971. The year of entry was 1898, Volume XIX, page xlix, in a paper on "Derivations of Dorset Surnames" by Captain G. R. Elwes. "Dr. March said it was not uncommon to give names of the places where they were found to waifs and foundlings. Thus, for example, a John Dorchester would be a child found at Dorchester." We were told by the Rector that "Dorchester" was merely a place name and not a surname. It is interesting to note that the Reverend John White, who organized the sending of the Dorchester Company settlers, also ran a home for orphans. Perhaps Anthony Dorchester's parents were unknown and he was given the name of the town in England for his surname. We will never know for a certainty.

I wish to acknowledge with deep appreciation all those who have helped me in my research. I want to thank my husband, Douglas, for editing this book and for his never-ending patience as I combed through the many papers and e-mails from California and Canada. My special gratitude also goes to Katharine Steward of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, who began the research for her friend, Caroline Dorchester Shantz, in 2003, and to Thomas F. Gede of Davis, California, who provided the proof needed in establishing the Canadian and California lines to Anthony Dorchester of Dorchester, Dorset, England. Without the careful Internet research done by our Dorchester friend and relative, Georgia G. Davison of Moravia, New York, I would never have found all the information I needed to have to complete this book. I am also indebted to Bonnie Shantz Klein of Wetaskiwin, Canada, and her sister-in-law, Brenda S. Shantz of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada, and another Dorchester relative here in the States, Carolyn O. Bulgey of Saratoga Springs, New York.

The search for our family roots continues throughout our lifetimes, and it is never fully completed. In every generation there are concerned persons who continue the research and the record-keeping for all of us, but it is important that each one of us makes a contribution to the up-dating of our family genealogy. We count on you to be part of this ongoing process, which will help to preserve our family name and heritage in perpetuity. We thus experience a bit of immortality here through our mutual efforts.

THE GENEALOGICAL NUMBERING SYSTEM

In this book we are using the standard numbering system employed by most genealogists. There are three numbers that are normally associated with an individual: the identification number, the generation number, and the birth order number.

Each person is assigned an Arabic identification number, beginning with number 1 for the immigrant ancestor (Anthony Dorchester). Every child carried forward in the genealogy then receives a sequential number in order of birth. For example, the oldest child of the immigrant is labeled number 2, and the next child carried forward is number 3. Any progeny not carried forward in the genealogy receives no number. This means that there is no number for those who died young, did not marry, did not have children, or could not be carried forward for any other reason. They are listed in the genealogy, but are not assigned an Arabic number.

The generation numbers are in superscript following the first name, numbering from the earliest American ancestor in the genealogy, such as ANTHONY¹ DORCHESTER. The succeeding generations are in numerical order, using the same style of superscript, i.e. JOHN² DORCHESTER.

The third set of identifying numbers in genealogy indicates the order of birth, and no one is omitted from this numerical system. Preceding the name of each child listed under a head of household is a small Roman numeral indicating the birth order. An illustration is the first son of Anthony Dorchester, listed as i. John B. and the second son is recorded as ii. James.

SELECTIONS FROM PSALM 90
(King James Version)

Lord, thou has been our dwelling place
in all generations.

Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art God.

The days of our years are threescore years and ten;
and if by reason of strength
they be fourscore years,
Yet is their strength
labour and sorrow,
for it is soon cut off,
and we fly away.

So teach us to number our days,
that we may apply
our hearts unto wisdom.

Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.
And let the beauty of the Lord
our God be upon us;
and establish thou the work of our hands upon us;
yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

St. Peter's Church - Dorchester, Dorsetshire, England

John White (1605-1648) was the famous Puritan rector of this church and he is buried beneath the south Porch. He pioneered an emigration scheme which resulted in many Dorset folk emigrating to Massachusetts, and founded the town of Dorchester there.

ANTHONY DORCHESTER

FIRST GENERATION

1 ANTHONY¹ DORCHESTER was born about 1620, probably in Dorchester, Dorsetshire, England. He may have been among the first settlers in this country in Hingham, Plymouth, Massachusetts, about 1634, before settling in Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut, with the Dorchester Company. He died 28 August 1683, in Springfield, Hampden, Massachusetts.

He married SARAH (last name unknown) about 1643. In the summer of 1649 the family moved up the Connecticut River to Springfield, Massachusetts. Sarah fell ill in July and died 9 November 1649.

Children born in Windsor by Anthony's first wife, Sarah:

- 2 i. JOHN² B., born 4 November 1644.
- 3 ii. JAMES, born 1646.
- 4 iii. MARY, born about 1648.

Anthony married MARTHA CHAPMAN KITCHERELL on 2 January 1650. She was the widow of Samuel Kitcherell with two young children, Samuel and Martha. Young Samuel died the next year. Martha died 17 December 1662 at the age of 32. Anthony was now left with several children dependent upon him.

Children born in Springfield by Anthony's second wife, Martha C. Kitcherell:

- 5 iv. BENJAMIN², born 9 March 1651.
- 6 v. SARAH, born 16 October 1653.
- vi. HESTER or ESTHER, born 25 October 1656 - died 17 November 1662.

Anthony purchased land in Windsor from Benjamin Newberry. His land bordered that of the Rev. John Warham and Dr. Bray Rossiter. This lot originally belonged to William Phelps, and in 1649 he made an agreement with Mr. Warham and Dr. Rossiter concerning the fencing of land. He sold this land bounded by Warham, Rossiter, and Job and John Drake, to Robert Howard in 1649.

Anthony Dorchester, with William Pyncheon, bought land from the Indians in Springfield. He bought approximately 10 acres from Griffith Jones, bounded by Jonathan Tayler, Rice Bedortha and John Matthews. He owned land later across the Greate (Connecticut) River and across the Agawam River and land in other parts of Springfield and the "Chikkupy Plain" as well.

At this point the issue of witchcraft suddenly emerged. Anthony Dorchester was employed by Hugh Parsons and had a fourth interest in a cow, which was killed and divided. Both wanted the tongue of the animal. Anthony received it but while cooking it in the pot it mysteriously disappeared. It was construed to be the work of a witch. Hugh and Mary Parsons were not friendly people and rather antisocial. Other incidents followed, and subsequently they were condemned for witchcraft and sent to Boston for trial. Mary was found to be mentally deranged and confessed to killing her own child. She was sentenced to be hanged, but died of natural causes before the execution could take place. Hugh Parson escaped conviction. He left Boston and was never seen in Springfield again.

Anthony established a mill in 1652 and became a fence viewer that same year and for many years thereafter. He was named Deputy Constable in 1657. He was also the second man on the list to whom lots were granted in 1654/5 in West Springfield, then called Chicopee Plain.

Anthony was first assigned a seat in the meeting house (church) in 1659. Where one sat in the congregation depended upon your status in the community. Anthony's seat moved forward in 1662, 1673 and again in 1678. In 1661 he took the freeman's oath. Only church members could vote in the community and they were designated "freemen". The next year he became a Selectman and was re-elected in 1671 and 1676.

On 16 May 1663 Anthony married ELIZABETH HARMON, the widow of John Harmon, and she had three children: John, Samuel and Joseph. She and Anthony had no children together. Elizabeth died 16 May 1699, at the age of 92.

Anthony is listed as one of 74 Townsmen in Springfield and listed as Surveyor of Highways in 1664 and 1665. He was fined for neglecting some work on the roads at one time and also fined because he (and 15 others) didn't answer a call to a town meeting. The next year he was fined again for not carrying out the orders of the Court as its deputy constable. In 1668 he was one of 62 men who protested the taking of customs tax. He held various positions in the town and in the church.

When the youth began misbehaving in the meetinghouse, the Selectman in April 1669 voted Niles Morgan and Jonathan Burt to sit in the galleries to check on the disorderly youth at the time of worship and Anthony Dorchester was to sit in the Grand Seat to watch over the troublesome mischief-makers.

By 1670 he was operating a ferry on the "Greate" (Connecticut) River just below the Agawam River and he charged 8 pence for horse and rider, 2 pence for people on foot, and 3 pence for a trooper and horse. Going over the Agawam River he charged about half as much.

He and 15 other men wanted to make a settlement at what is now the town of Suffield. Townsmen were ordered to provide 70 loads of firewood to the preacher and Anthony provided 4 loads. He and Miles Morgan were designated to care for ordering furnishings for the preacher's house.

In February 1672 he was sent with some others to talk with the local Indians as there was trouble over land ownership. That same year he acquired 30 more acres of land. The names of

DORCHESTER - FIRST GENERATION

Anthony Dorchester and four others are mentioned in a deed of land sold by the Indians to them within the limits of the old town of Springfield in 1674. Tracts of land were granted to the Dorchesters several times. For many years Anthony was a Selectman and a tithingman (one who collected the 10% tithe due the church).

In 1674 he was given two pounds for killing 4 wolves. Anthony was also chosen to be on the committee to build a new meetinghouse in Springfield in that same year. The next year he was granted a military deferment for health reasons (lameness), running the ferry, and keeping an ordinary (tavern) where he sold beer and cider.

In 1676 Anthony Dorchester was appointed Selectman to fill the vacancy caused by the killing of John Keepe by the Indians at Pacowsick (Pecowsic). That was the year Springfield was burned by the Indians. In 1677 Anthony was fined because he didn't report for jury duty when called. The next year he was paid 8 shillings, 6 pence from the Town treasury for transporting some persons on horseback on his ferry. That is also the year that Anthony and his sons took the Oath of Allegiance to King Charles II.

Anthony was a miller by occupation and for many years appears to have had charge of a corn mill and the saw mill of William Pyncheon. He also ran the ferry and in 1680 his victualling license was renewed. The exact location of his house is not known, but it was probably near the southern end of Main Street (as it was then known) and on the west side of the street, probably not very far from the present Loring Street.

Anthony Dorchester was one of 22 men who owed fines to the town in 1681. The fines paid went to pay the taxes of widow Beamons. Again that year he asked for military deferment, and in 1686 he was given a fine for not attending a town meeting.

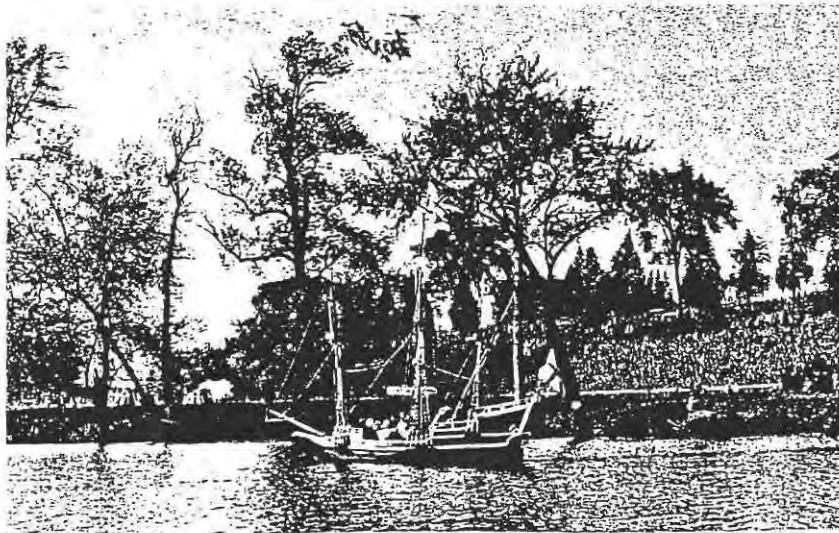

Anthony and his sons, John and James, were granted several portions of land in the Springfield-Chicopee area. In a distribution of land back as early as 1664 he had set aside 30 acres for each of his sons, John and James, and step-sons, John, Samuel and Joseph Harmon, making a total of 150 acres at that time. Son Benjamin was only 12 years old and thus was not on this list. This son predeceased him in 1676.

When Anthony Dorchester died 28 August 1683, he left 97 acres of land, buildings, guns, swords, a boat and chain, household goods, farm tools and livestock. The inventory was appraised at 278 pounds and 7 shillings. According to records, he had about 18 acres in what is now Chicopee, four in Pascowick and the remainder of over 60 acres in Springfield.

DORCHESTER

SECOND GENERATION

2 JOHN² B. DORCHESTER (Anthony¹) was born 4 November 1644, Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut; died 5 October 1705, Springfield, Hampden, Massachusetts.

He married his step-sister, MARY HARMON, born 12 November 1651, daughter of John Harmon, 20 April 1671, in Springfield, Massachusetts. After her death, John married SARAH GAYLORD, daughter of Samuel Gaylord, on 29 November 1671. John Dorchester had no children.

In 1662 John was assigned a church pew "below the pillars". Two years later he received 30 acres of land from his father, Anthony Dorchester. When help was needed at the corn mill in 1665, John gave two days of work.

John was made a constable in 1668. He sided with his father and brother in protesting the custom tax. In 1672 John was granted part of a meadow. By 1674 John was maintaining the ferry. On 1 January 1678, John took the Oath of Allegiance to King Charles II.

After Anthony Dorchester's death in 1683, John presented his father's inventory to the court, as he and his brother James were administrators of the estate. His sister and step-sisters went to the court because they felt it was their father's intention to give them a larger share in the inheritance. John had land on the west side of the Great (Connecticut) River below the Agawam River and James had land on the east side. John also held a parcel of land (approximately 10 acres on the west side of the river at what is called the neck). By September 1684 John and James conveyed to John Harmon, husband of their sister, Mary, and to Joseph Stebbins, husband of their step-sister, Sarah, several acres of land instead of a monetary settlement. Martha Kitcherell, their step-mother's daughter was not awarded anything by the court in the dispute. Martha was married to Abell Wright.

By 1690 John Dorchester was listed as a freeman in Springfield, Massachusetts.

DORCHESTER - SECOND GENERATION

3 JAMES² DORCHESTER (Anthony¹) was born 1646 in Windsor, Hartford, Connecticut; died 10 November 1732, Springfield, Hampden, Massachusetts.

He married SARAH PARSONS, born 13 August 1656, the daughter of Deacon Benjamin and Sarah Vore Parsons (See PARSONS in Allied Families), on 1 March 1677, Springfield, Massachusetts. Sarah died 27 June 1740 in Springfield, Massachusetts.

James was assigned a seat in the gallery of the meeting house in 1662, and in 1664, he received 30 acres of land from his father. Just as his brother had done, James also volunteered two days' work at the corn mill in 1665 and protested the customs tax with his father and brother. In 1671 he and John Harmon, his brother-in-law, killed a wolf.

On 1 January 1678, he took the Oath of Allegiance to King Charles II. John became a surveyor of highways that same year and again in 1681. He, too, held the office of tithingman for several years.

With his brother John, he was administrator of his father's estate in September of 1683 and with his brother went to court over the claims of the sisters the following September. He was ordered to deed land to the husbands of Mary and Sarah. In 1686 he was made constable and in 1690 he was declared a freeman. For two years he held the office of fence viewer and by 1705 was surveyor of highways. It is interesting to note that in 1711 he was paid by the town for caring for an indigent person. Twenty years later in 1732, a few months before his death, the town had to provide funds to care for him.

and served under General Putnam, Parson's Brigade, the following Summer. From October to December 1777, the regiment served under General Clinton and from there they went on to Long Island where some of the officers were captured. The men later wintered at West Point. 32A WESLEY⁹ JEROME DORCHESTER (David W.⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 28 October 1868, Austin, Minnesota; died 21 November 1951, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada.

He married LAURA BELLE PLATT 9 May 1900, Genesee, Idaho. She was born 29 December 1879, Yankton, South Dakota, the daughter of Thomas and Carrie Harris Platt. Laura died 3 July 1946, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada.

After his marriage, Wesley joined his in-laws, the Platts, cattle ranching near the Salmon River in Idaho. It was very rugged country and one could only get in there by packhorse or by taking a raft down the river. Two of their children, Wesley Leonard and Caroline Rose, were born in Genesee, Idaho. Around 1910 the family moved to Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada, and settled on a farm five miles from the town. Thomas Walter and Villa Augusta were born in Wetaskiwin.

Wesley then got into the cattle business and he rented pastureland at Ryley, Alberta, Canada. After two years he rented 16 quarters (1 quarter=160 acres) of land on an Indian Reservation, which went ten miles to the south, where he had 500 head of cattle. He took his older son with him and camped there during the summer while his wife and the younger children stayed on the farm. Wesley had ten hired men and a Chinese cook with him. When winter came, the cattle were trailed home and two loads of hay were hauled daily from the Reservation to feed the cattle. They lived on this farm for four years and moved into Wetaskiwin itself for two years. Wesley eventually bought a half section (1/2 section=2 quarters or 320 acres) of land 3 miles south of Wetaskiwin that the family still owns, and four generations of his family have lived there.

DORCHESTER - NINTH GENERATION

Toward the end of his life, he kept only a few head of cattle. He gave the farm to his four children after his wife died. His daughter, Caroline and her husband, Lloyd Shantz, bought the farm from the other family members. He lived in town briefly and then went back to the farm and spent the last year of his life with his daughter Caroline and her family.

67A WESLEY¹⁰ LEONARD DORCHESTER (Wesley J⁹, David W⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 14 February 1905, Genesee, Idaho; died 6 February 1982, Breton, Alberta, Canada.

Wesley Leonard helped his father on his farm and went to the Salmon River in Idaho for two years when he was 19. He also helped his Platt relatives on their ranch. He and a partner owned a livery stable in Grande Prairie for some time and he did some trucking and had a riding stable at Sylvan Lake and Pigeon Lake about 25 miles west of Westaskiwin. He trained horses for many people and worked in a logging camp in northern Alberta. Wesley Leonard was well known as a horse trader--he would trade anything and everything. He was a real coffee drinker and if anyone wanted to find him, you could always locate him at the Club Café. Family teased him that the café was his office.

68A CAROLINE¹⁰ ROSE DORCHESTER (Wesley J⁹, David W.⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 27 October 1909.

She married LLOYD CHARLES SHANTZ, 26 November 1930. Lloyd was born 29 November 1908, Wetaskin, Alberta, Canada, and died 15 April 1997, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. Lloyd was the son of Charles Reid and Blanche Howey Shantz, and a descendant of Peter and Anna Von Gunten Tschantz (Shantz) of Lake Thun, Sigrisville, Switzerland. Peter was born about 1660 in Switzerland.

Lloyd and Caroline lived for a short while after their marriage on Lloyd's father's farm. In 1934 they bought land in the Usona district in Alberta. Their two-room house was loaded onto wagons pulled by eight horses to the spot they had chosen as a building site. They had a log barn and a chicken house dug into a hillside. Often it became difficult to make the $100 payments on the homestead each year. A few acres of land were cultivated each year. Many of their crops froze before being harvested. They also had a few milk cows and seven or eight horses. To supplement their income, Lloyd cleared land for neighbors and they boarded a teacher or two who taught school in the area. Lloyd also hauled baled hay to a town nearby to be shipped to Southern Alberta for $1.00 per ton. Sometimes they would leave early in the morning with two loads of wood, a four-horse load and a two-horse load. By the end of the day, with the wood finally unloaded, they received $8 for their efforts.

As time went by they acquired more cattle. Water had to be pulled up forty feet in five-gallon pails twice a day for the cattle. Cattle were not worth much in those days and once they traded a cow for an old crank gramophone. They sold their eggs for six to eight cents a dozen and five gallons of cream went for one dollar. A two-hundred pound hog sold for four dollars. While in Usona, Donna and Jerry were born.

In the Spring of 1940 they purchased more land from Lloyd's father and moved to Battle River district into a four-room house. Once again they loaded the four-room house onto wagons and moved to the new site. They again boarded teachers in their home and in 1943 Bonnie Gay was born. In 1947 they sold their land and moved to land owned by Caroline's father, Wesley Jerome, as he had retired from farming, and there they built a new house, barn and other buildings. In 1969 they took in a foster child to live with them. Lloyd suffered a long illness with Alzheimer's disease and spent his last years in the hospital. At the time of his death in 1997, Caroline and Lloyd had been married 67 years. On Caroline's 95th birthday, she went trail riding on horseback..

69A THOMAS¹⁰ WALTER DORCHESTER (Wesley J⁹, David W⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹) born 31 May 1911, Wetaskiwan, Alberta, Canada; died 6 July 1991, Rimbey, Alberta, Canada.

He married JOY GERMAINE SHANTZ 1 January 1936 in Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. Joy was the sister of Lloyd Charles Shantz and daughter of

Charles R. and Blanche Howey Shantz. She was born 22 March 1916, Wetaskiwan, Alberta, Canada, and died 15 June 2000, Ponoka, Alberta, Canada.

After Thomas and Joy were married, they lived in Usona and in Wetaskiwin before acquiring land in the Westeros district in 1943. The family enjoyed all kinds of sports such as hockey, curling and rodeos. Thomas (Tom) was legendary as a chuckwagon racing driver* (see description below) and four-time World champion and two-time Calgary Stampede champion. In 1973 he was chosen "Cowboy of the Year" by the Canadian Professional Cowboys' Association.

Tom last competed as a driver at the Calgary Stampede in 1981, retiring at the age of seventy. In 1982, he was presented with the "Pioneer of Rodeo Award" by the Calgary Stampede for contributions to racing for over 50 years. In 1984 Tom was inducted into the Canadian Cowboy Hall of Fame, the first chuckwagon driver to be inducted. Because of his involvement in the sport of chuckwagon racing, Tom Dorchester brought distinction and worldwide recognition to Alberta, Wetaskin and his home community of Westeros.

Joy Shantz Dorchester was her husband's right-hand helper and did much of the work that is involved in chuckwagon racing. She was also a good horsewoman and enjoyed going with Tom and his horses from one race to another. The couple also helped build the Westeros Curling Rink in 1951. Joy was secretary for the rink for ten years. When the family moved to Westeros, there were no schools in that area so the farmers built one. Joy was also a mail delivery person for five years.

Tom was presented with a life membership buckle from the Ponoka Stampede for never missing a year at their rodeo for fifty years. At this writing, there is a lounge and grandstand at the Ponoka Stampede named "Tommy Dorchester's Paddock". In 1967, Tom went to the Expo in Montreal and appeared with Wilf Carter portraying an old cattle driver. Tom became known as a "wheeler dealer" in cattle and horses and just loved to make a trade or a deal on something.

* It seems appropriate to go into the history of Chuckwagon Racing as described in the World Professional Chuckwagon Association (WPCA) statement and additional information from Susan Fraser. "It had its roots in the 1800's, when cowboys at the end of a long cattle drive would finish eating, break camp, stash cooking gear in their chuckwagon and speed to town in search of entertainment. In 1923, a race based on this tradition was held at the Calgary Stampede, a famous Canadian rodeo. Each chuckwagon team includes a driver at the reins of four thoroughbreds and four outriders on horseback. When the starting horn sounds, the outriders toss the equivalent of a cookstove and tent poles into the back of the wagon, the driver maneuvers the wagon around two barrels, the outriders are on their horses and they race about a half-mile down the track, go around more barrels and return to the finish line. Four chuckwagons race at once." It should be noted that it is a very dangerous sport and serious injuries often occur.

124A DONNA LLOY SHANTZ¹¹ (Caroline¹⁰ Dorchester, Wesley J⁹., David W.⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 25 January 1937, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada.

Donna married ROBERT CHARLES WESTENDORF 27 December 1958, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. He was born 8 August 1935, the son of Charles and Hilda Westendorf. Robert's family also farmed near Wetaskiwin, Alberta.

Donna graduated from Wetaskiwin High School and then graduated from the University of Alberta in 1958. She trained as a home economist and worked as a district home economist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Her husband, Robert, was an engineer with International Pipeline Ltd. In 1965 the couple and their son, Mark, moved to Ontario, where Donna taught in the high school. Robert was employed by Atomic Energy of Canada, and he did marketing in cobalt radiation equipment for cancer therapy.

Robert found that he enjoyed international travel and really was not satisfied with working for a corporation. The couple started their own marketing company and moved to Hong Kong. With her husband doing a great deal of traveling, Donna convinced her mother, Caroline Dorchester Shantz, to come and visit her. She thoroughly enjoyed her time there and made a total of three visits. In 1982 her mother did not come alone. She was joined by Donna's mother-in-law, Hilda Westendorf, her sister, Bonnie, her brother Jerry's daughter, Gina, and Aunt Villa's daughter, Debbie. They spent an exciting two weeks in Hong Kong together.

Donna's husband, Robert, was representing some Canadian companies which produced agriculture-related equipment. In 1980 the couple moved from Hong Kong to Dubai, United Arab Emirates. Bob was involved in marketing turnkey projects with greenhouse hydroponic growing in that country. He made frequent sales trips throughout China and the Far East. In 1989 Bob undertook a project for the Prime Minister of Malaysia, which involved a Four-Season Temperate Garden. During that year everything passed through the four seasons typically found in a temperate climate. For the official opening, winter was chosen and snow-making equipment, similar to what is used in ski resorts, was brought in and people lined up for miles to see this. Local papers had headlines which read "Snow in Malaysia"! The plants then passed through their normal seasonal growing cycle.

The Gulf War occurred while they were there, and the couple also developed an interest in golf and enjoyed being in Dubai at the very time when golf caught on in the desert. Donna and Robert are now retired and living in Pattaya, Thailand.

125A JERRY DENNIS SHANTZ¹¹ (Caroline¹⁰ Dorchester, Wesley J.⁹, David W.⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 29 June 1939, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

He married BRENDA ANN STOODLEY 2 November 1968, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. She was born 27 September 1946, Kirkland Lake, Ontario, Canada, the daughter of George and Kathleen Stoodley. Brenda grew up in northeastern Ontario in the town of Kirkland Lake. It was once a flourishing town where they mined gold and over 400 men worked in these mines. Displaced persons and their families came to this town after World War II. The street on which Brenda lived was a multicultural mix of different ethnic groups and religions. "The children played together and the parents socialized long before it was socially acceptable to be tolerant of others." It was a workingman's town, but the mines began to shut down and graduates of the local high school had to leave Kirkland Lake to find employment. This is the time when Brenda headed for Alberta, where she met her future husband, Jerry.

Jerry was born to be a horseman and cattleman and as a youngster would race home from school so that he could be involved in the daily chores at the farm. Even as a youth, he loved to compete in gymkhanas and amateur rodeos and was an excellent horseman. (A gymkhana is a series of competitions, which require special skills by the rider and thorough training of his horse.) Early on, Jerry decided that he wanted to take over the Dorchester-Shantz family farm and he purchased it from his parents in 1963. Two years later he met Brenda, who had just moved from Northern Ontario. The couple were married in 1968. Brenda had to adjust to living on a farm and tending to farm animals, but she came to love this kind of life and she also became very fond of Jerry's family.

Jerry was asked by the Livestock Inspection Branch to join them as a Brand Inspector at the Wetaskiwin and Camrose Auction Markets not long after he bought the farm. This was a part-time position but he has held this job for over forty-three years. In recent years he has rented his farmland. Brenda also worked as an accounting clerk for local businesses for over thirty years.

126A BONNIE GAY SHANTZ¹¹ (Caroline¹⁰ Dorchester, Wesley J.⁹, David W.⁸, Halsey⁷, David III⁶, David, Jr.⁵, David⁴, James, Jr.³, James², Anthony¹), born 19 February 1943, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada.

She married BRUCE LOUIS KLEIN 23 August 1963, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, Canada. He was born 19 May 1943, the son of Lawrence and Marie Klein. The family lived in Ma-me-o Beach but moved to Edmonton in 1956. He later was employed in the trucking business.

Bonnie and her siblings rode horseback to a one-room school until 1953. After that time they were able to take a school bus to a centralized school, which went through the 12th grade, in Wetaskiwin. Living on the old Dorchester farm the children created their own fun riding horses, calves and even pigs. The children helped their father milk the cows and do other farm chores. The whole family was involved in riding and showing horses almost every weekend throughout Central Alberta. They competed in family riding classes, where all five in the family dressed alike in clothes which Caroline Dorchester Shantz had made. The family won many trophies and prizes, including money, in these shows or classes.

Bonnie trained as a nurse at the Provincial Training School, Red Deer, Alberta, Canada, but left before finishing in order to get married. This school worked with the mentally handicapped. Bonnie and Bruce had known each other since childhood when her Uncle and Aunt, Leonard and Elaine Dorchester, had a riding stable in Ma-me-o Beach and Bonnie spent holidays with them. Bruce worked for Civic Tire and Battery Company until 1966. In 1967 the family moved to Regina, Saskatchewan, where Bruce spent a year at barber school. He also drove pony chuckwagons with his instructor from the barber school. The family really loved this outdoor life, sleeping in a tent, and cooking on a camp stove with their two little boys.

In 1968 the family moved to Calgary, where Bruce worked in a barbership for a year. He then opened his own barbershop and beauty salon. In 1970 the couple bought ten acres about a mile south of Wetaskiwin. This was not far from Bonnie's parents. They have cattle and horses on their farm and large gardens. Bonnie and Bruce have enjoyed going to the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, trips to North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana and to Idaho visiting relatives. One trip which they thoroughly enjoyed was a trip to visit Bruce's sister in Montreal, and from there they went to New York, Vermont and New Hampshire. The couple love being near their grandchildren and also going to rodeos. They follow their cousins, who are chuckwagon drivers and racers at the rodeos.

Bonnie stayed home to care for her two boys, Bruce and Bart, but operated a Western Wear Store for four years. Now she is indeed a busy woman with all she has to do on her farm but she does volunteer work at Peace Hills Lodge, where her mother, Caroline, and her Aunt Villa now reside.

He was Calgary Stampede's Champion Outrider in 1984, 1988, 1990, 1998 and 1999 and the Grande Prairie Stompede champion in 2002. In World Champion racing he came in 5th in 2001, 3rd in 2002 and he was World Champion in chuckwagon racing in 2004 and in Edmonton's Chuckwagon Derby. In 2005 Rick was champion in Edmonton's Chuckwagon Derby and in their "Sudden Death" race. Also in that same year, he was North American Chuckwagon Champion. He was also champion in David Lewis Calgary Stompede. (David Lewis was Rick's step-father.)

It should be noted here that the Dorchesters were one of the founding families of chuckwagon racing at the Ponoka Stampede, and it is impossible to separate the name "Dorchester" from "chuckwagon racers". The two have been inextricably bound together since the Ponoka Stampede began. The late Tommy Dorchester began this family legacy back in the 1930's, and he himself was a pioneer in chuckwagon racing at Ponoka. The legacy has continued with several of his sons, including Dallas, Dennis, Gordon and Garry Dorchester and now the third generation is carrying on the tradition.

The Ponoka Stampede began as a small show drawing about 100 people, and it became one of the top rodeos in Western Canada, with 7,000 seats filled every night. It is the only four-outrider show besides Calgary in the chuckwagon tour and helps racers prepare for the well-known Calgary Stampede each year.

Rick Fraser's entire family participates in the May to September wagon racing circuit. Rick designed and built his own wagon. When en route to a meet, he drives a tractor-trailer carrying 25 horses. Another truck driven by one of his hired hands hauls the tack, the chuckwagon itself and extra horses. His wife, Sue, drives a pick-up truck pulling their 35-foot trailer home. His children, Amy, Kaylee and Cody help with caring for the horses, even to harnessing them before a race. His wife, Sue, manages all of the cooking for the entire group and was featured on the cover of "Country Woman".

That year saw him in 19 top ten runs including 9 that "cracked" the top five. He had a runner-up finish at Strathmore Heritage Days, top ten overall aggregate finishes at the Rocky Rangeland Derby Championship, the North American Chuckwagon Championship and Calgary Stampede Rangeland Derby Championship--certainly his best year. He is a former champion of the Grande Prairie Night.

DORCHESTER - TWELFTH GENERATION

In his off time, Troy loves to play golf and hockey and curling. He has many fond memories of the Stampede: "I think of it as a highlight of my life", he says, recalling with nostalgia times spent with friends and family: "I always knew I wanted to drive wagons." Apparently, that is all he and his cousin, Quinn, ever talked about. His mother, Dauna Dorchester, stated that Ponoka had been very good to the Dorchester family, and the family was very proud that they display Troy's grandfather's wagon up on an iron pillar 40 feet in the air along with their Palomino bucking horse. She once said, "We always enjoyed racing at Ponoka, and I hope the Dorchesters have helped make it a little bit better because of their love for the Ponoka Stampede. We are proud to call the Ponoka Stampede our 'home town' stampede."

Craig married and three children were listed in the research paper, including Richard Arnold, born 23 January 1943, Santa Monica, California.

Numbering was already completed for the Twelfth Generation and so Richard Arnold Stimson could not be given #146A. I believe, however, that he was a brother to Craig Allen Stimson. Consequently, this is the way that Richard Arnold could have been listed:

He married JUDY ELEANOR BORG 26 July 1964, Moline, Illinois. Richard became a physician.

LUCE

3 HENRY³ LUCE (Israel², Abraham¹), born about 1640, Gloucestershire, England; died 1688, Tisbury, Dukes, Massachusetts.

He married REMEMBER LITCHFIELD about 1666, Scituate, Plymouth, Massachusetts. She was born 1644, Barnstable, Barnstable, Massachusetts, the daughter of Lawrence and Judith Dennis Litchfield.

Henry held several town offices when living in Rehoboth (surveyor, juror, and selectman) before moving to Martha's Vineyard. After living there for a short time, Henry and several other men on the Vineyard took part in what was called "the Dutch Rebellion". Thomas Mayhew, who received a patent for the Island, had proclaimed himself the "Lord of the Manor" and every important office governing the Island was held by a Mayhew family member. When Thomas' grandson went to New York to pay for the renewal of the annual patent, by which he would then receive again a document granting rights to the Mayhew family for the Island of Martha's Vineyard, the Dutch had seized New York and it had become New Amsterdam again and Matthew Mayhew returned with no patent from the Governor of New York. Twenty men, including Henry Luce and Isaac Robinson (Janice Dorchester's ancestor), were seeking political freedom, as they had found Thomas Mayhew's rule very oppressive. They considered the event in New York an opportunity to establish the Island as an independent colony under a more democratic rule.

Those in "rebellion" sent a petition to Thomas Mayhew asking him to abdicate, and of course, he refused. They next petitioned the State of Massachusetts to assist them, but the State had other problems and wanted no part in it. In February of 1674, the English took back the port of New York and the Dutch no longer controlled Manhattan. The Governor of New York then ruled that Thomas Mayhew was in charge, so all of the twenty men were tried and found guilty on multiple charges. They were threatened with disenfranchisement, loss of property, and were heavily fined. Several of the families left the Island, but most of them paid their fines and continued living on the Island. Several of Henry Luce's own sons, however, eventually did leave the Island.

DORCHESTER - ALLIED FAMILIESMACLEAN

(Mac Lean - McLean)

Maclean is an ancient Clan in Scotland and the name means "Son of Gillean" and the clan takes its name from a thirteenth-century warrior, Gillean of the Battle Axe. He was related to the kings of the ancient province of Dalraida, which included the Island of Mull. The first castle on the Island of Mull was on a peninsula called "Black Point" and it jutted out into the Sound of Mull, Western Hebrides, Scotland. It was a site which must have been of great importance when Norse and Viking raiders made forays to the Western Isles and the Highlands. The small fortress was later used by the Lord of the Isles, who led an alliance with the west-coast chiefs in fighting the Vikings, who made their first attacks in 793.

Lines of Descent:

- 1 Gillian¹ na Tuaighe (of the Battle Axe), 1st Chief of Clan Maclean, born about 1210. He established himself on the island of Mull in the Western Hebrides of Scotland and Gillian probably traced his lineage to Old Dugald of Scone, who lived about 1100.
- 2 Malise (Gillise) MacGillean, 2nd Chief of Maclean, died about 1300.
- 3 Malcolm Maclean, 3rd Chief of Maclean. He fought for Robert the Bruce (future King of Scotland) at Bannockburn in 1314.
- 4 John Dubh Maclean, 4th Chief of MacLean, died in the reign of King Robert II.
- 5 Lachlan Lubanach Maclean, 5th Chief of Maclean. The first recorded mention of the Macleans is in a papal dispensation of 1367, which allowed their Chief Lachlan Lubanach Maclean to marry the daughter of the Lord of the Isles, Mary Macdonald. It was said to be a love match and her father was persuaded to allow it only after she had been kidnapped by Lachlan. The Chief of the Mackinnons was killed when this occurred. Thus the Macleans came to own much of the island of Mull since the Mackinnon lands were granted to them by the Macdonalds as a dowry. Lachlan built the keep that stands today as the castle Duart, with its walls twenty-nine feet high and nearly ten feet in thickness. Lachlan died about 1405.
- 6 Hector Roy (Ruadh nan Cath) Maclean, 6th Chief of Maclean was slain in 1411 at the Battle of Harlaw, near Aberdeen, Scotland. It was a battle over land ownership between Donald, descendant of Somerled, first Lord of the Isles (of Clan Macdonald), and Alexander, the Earl of Mar, son of the "Wolf of Badenoch", and the Earl of Buchan. Donald lost the battle. The Macdonalds, Lords of the Isles, dominated the Hebrides well into the sixteenth century and the Macleans were loyal supporters of their regime.
- 7 Lachlan Bronnach Maclean of Duart, 7th Chief of Maclean, died after 1472.

The line of descent for the Cadet Clan (branch) of Maclean is as follows:

1 (8th from Gillian) John¹ Garbh Maclean, becomes the 1st Chief of Maclean of the island of Coll, which is not far from Mull, Inner Hebrides, Argyll, Scotland. He was the second son of Lachlan Bronnach of Duart.

2 John² Abrach Maclean, 2nd Maclean of Coll. He died about 1558.

3 3rd Maclean Chief of Coll. (First name unknown..)

4 Hector⁴ Maclean, 4th Maclean of Coll, died about 1583.

5 Hector⁵ Roy Maclean , 5th Maclean of Coll, died about 1593.

6 LACHLAN⁶ MACLEAN (Hector Roy⁵, Hector⁴, Maclean Chief of Coll³, John Abrach², John Garbh¹), 6th Maclean of Coll, was born about 1582 and died January 1642. He actually was the 13th in line from Gillian, first Chief of the Clan Maclean, but he became the first significant laird and chief of a major cadet clan of the Clan Gillean/Maclean. He was the only son of Hector Roy Maclean and his wife, Marian, daughter of Hector Og Maclean, 13th Chief of Maclean, who died in 1573/4. Hector Og's wife was Jane (Janet) Campbell, daughter of Archibald Campbell, 4th Earl of Argyll. Through this Campbell family, the line goes back to the 1st Earl of Atholl, Sir John Stewart of Balveny, who was a descendant of King Edward III of England, King Robert III, Robert II and Robert the Bruce, all Kings of Scotland.

Lachlan was a prominent man in his time. He struggled to recover in his estates the Isle of Coll, which was seized by his first cousin, Sir Lachlan Mor Maclean (1558-1598), 14th Chief of Maclean (Duart Castle on Mull). Lachlan rounded up the people on the Isle of Mull and locked them in a barn to convert them to Presbyterianism, following the teachings of the renowned minister, John Knox.

Lachlan married FLORENCE MACLEOD, the daughter of Tormod Macleod, 13th Chief of Clan Macleod, who died in 1585.

Children:

- i. John⁷ Garbh became 7th Maclean of Coll, married Marian, daughter of Hector Maclean of Torloisk.
- ii. Hector, of the Isle of Muck.
- iii. NEIL, of Drimnicross.
- iv. Catherine, married John, Laird of Mackinnon.
- v. Janet, married Farquhar Fraser, dean of the Isles.

7 NEIL⁷ MACLEAN (Lachlan⁶, Hector Roy⁵, Hector⁴, Maclean Chief of Coll³, John Abrah², John Garbh¹), of Drimnicross, was wounded at the Battle of Inverkeithing on July 20, 1651.

He married FLORENCE MACDONALD, the daughter of Allan Macdonald of Morar. Allan Macdonald was likely the 3rd Macdonald of Morar, and a descendant of Dugall Macdonald, 6th Chief of Macdonald of Clanranald and Moidart, who died in 1520. This Chief was so cruel to his clansmen that they assassinated him and excluded his sons from the succession.

Children:

- i. Hector⁸, killed at Dunkeld. His son was Lachlan of Torrestan.
- ii. ALLAN of Grisiboll.
- iii. Marian, married Charles Maclean, Baillie of Ross.

- viii. Janet, married Charles Maclean of Coll.

8 ALLAN⁸ MACLEAN (Neil⁷, Lachlan⁶, Hector Roy⁵, Hector⁴, Maclean Chief of Coll³, John Abrah², John Garbh¹) of Grisiboll.

He married CATHERINE MACLEAN, daughter of Hugh Maclean of Balliphetrish, Tiree, and his wife Catherine, daughter of John Garbh Maclean of Drimnin (of the Morvern branch), Baillie of Ross of Mull. Hugh Maclean of Ballephetrish was the son of Lachlan Maclean of Vallay, North Uist, Hebrides.

In Catherine's maternal line, she was a descendant of the well-known, gallant and somewhat notorious Sir Lachlan Mor Maclean (1558-1598), the 14th Chief of Maclean, and his wife, Margaret Cunningham, daughter of William Cunningham, 6th Earl of Glencairn (born about 1532). Through him, she was a descendant of James II Stewart, King of Scotland, Edward III, King of England, John II, King of France, and John the Fearless and Philip the Bold, Dukes of Burgundy.

9 ALLAN⁹ MAC LEAN (Allan⁸ of Grisiboll, Neil⁷ of Drimnicross, Lachlan⁶, Hector Roy⁵, Hector⁴, Maclean Chief of Coll³, John Abrah², John Garbh¹), born 1 August 1715, Killbride, Coll, Hebrides, Scotland; died 9 April 1786.

In 1740 Allan emigrated to Massachusetts and eventually to Hartford, Connecticut. He followed his brother, Dr. Neil MacLean, who came to America in 1736 and settled in Wethersfield, Hartford, Connecticut. Neil married first Hannah Stillman and second, Hannah Knowles, and left many progeny by his first wife. He died in 1784.

Allan was a merchant and farmer in Vernon, Tolland, Connecticut. Allan married first SUSANNAH BEAUCHAMP, born 1711, the daughter of John Beauchamp. She died January 1741, Hartford, Connecticut, at the age of 30 and is buried in the Ancient Burying Ground, Hartford, Connecticut. She had no children.

Allan married second MARY LOOMIS 6 December 1744. She was born 28 September 1723, the daughter of Ensign Jabez and Mary Ferry Loomis. She died 6 August 1790, Vernon, Tolland, Connecticut.

He tried to enlist the Allan MacLean above but was rejected. He died in London without issue. Another MacLean relative, Col. Francis MacLean, participated in the capture of Montreal. He died in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, unmarried.

His brother, Joseph, was a British cavalry officer (a Cornet). Cornet Parsons' wife, Mary Bliss Parsons, was accused of witchcraft and Benjamin was called as a witness in her defense at her trial. PRESTON (De Preston)

1 ADAM¹ PRESTON, born 1564, Giggleswick, Chesham, England; died 8 November 1593, Chesham, England. He was the son of William and Anna Saunders Preston. Adam Preston was a descendant of Leolphus De Preston of Mid-Lothian, Scotland, a Scottish noble, who likely came to England and Scotland after 1066. Leolphus' grandson, William, was one of the 24 Scottish nobles chosen by King Edward I of England to place a figurehead of Scottish nobility on the throne in that country. John Baliol was chosen and not Robert the Bruce.

The De Preston family later moved into the Border territory and eventually moved into Yorkshire. By the 1400's, the "De" was dropped from their surname.

STIMSON

1 (Dr.) JAMES¹ STIMSON, born about 1636, Reading (Wakefield), Middlesex, Massachusetts; died before Dec 1690, Reading (Wakefield), Middlesex, Massachusetts. There is no evidence that he is the son of John Stimpson of Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts, and his wife Susanna Phillips. Whether he was a physician is also unsubstantiated, and may be the result of attributing to him what clearly belonged to his son, also named James Stimson.

He married first NAOMI (Nahomi/Naomy) LEFFINGWELL (Leafinwell), 18 April 1661, Reading, Middlesex, Massachusetts. She was born 8 November 1638, Cambridge, Middlesex, Massachusetts, the daughter of Michael and Isabelle Cox Leffingwell. She died 28 March 1681, Reading, Middlesex, Massachusetts.
