fashion, just back of the ears. Some brides cling to the sweet custom of wearing the face veil, which comes usually just to the waistline. It is usually arranged on a cord or narrow ribbon and pinned on loosely with large pearl pins, making it possible for the maid of honor to remove it without any delay or confusion. In some cases the Alencon veil is put on flat with small sprays of orange blossoms and a very long tulle veil is worn over all to give an extra softness to the bridal gown. This second veil is a matter of taste and is usually removed after the ceremony before the reception. The one to whom falls the duty of arranging the tulle veil just before the bride goes up the church aisle should see to it that it has plenty of fullness across the back of the head, so that the hair will not show through.

Dance at Commercial Club.
A very delightful dance for the younger set was given at the Commercial Club on Thursday evening by Miss Consuelo Lankford in honor of her guests, Miss Vera Greever of Sivelva Bend and Miss Gladys Howell of Davis, Oklahoma.

Miss Greever wore a white lingerie frock with blue accessories. Miss Howell white marquisette embroidered in pink and Miss Lankford red net with accessories to correspond.

The grand march was led by Miss Greever and Mr. Tab Caraway. Miss Howell favored Warren Tayman and Miss Lankford favored Henry Russell.

Fifteen dances with four extras were scheduled within the programs. On the covers of the programs were: "Testimonial to Miss Vera Greever and Miss Gladys Howell, Commercial Club, June 22, 1911, by Miss Consuelo Lankford."

Neapolitan ice cream and cake in pink and white were served. The merry dancers finished their last gay whirl at the midnight hour.

Those who attended were Misses Gladys Howell, Vera Greever, Mae D. Leslie, Laura Belle Devoegelee, Marguerite Dale of Dallas, Belle Birge, Hattie Birge, Mary Wharton, Lucile Griffin, Edith Gribble, Margie Mattingly, Mildred Elliott, Mary Grace Muse, Katherine Brents, Annie Batsell, Agnes Cherry, Melanie Perry of Houston, Mary McConville, Lucile Fitch; Messrs. The marriage of Miss Ruth Muchert and Mr. Harry McReynolds will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. Jules E. Muchert, on North Travis street, on Monday evening. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, only relatives of the two families being present.

Porch Party.
Miss Mildred Elliott, who has recently returned from school in St. Louis, welcome her friends on Wednesday morning with a porch party at her home on South Crockett street.

The porch was made attractive with greenery and rags, chairs and Kimball. Miss Gladys Goodin of Coalgate, Oklahoma, shared in the honors of the evening.

Party-two was the game played and there were seven tables in use. At the conclusion of the games Miss Hattie Kimball was awarded a puff box, with burnt wood standard and top, for high score. This was the work of the honor guest, Ray Kimball. Miss Kimball presented her favor to Miss Goodin. Clyde Lucas received the gentlemen's favor, a watercolor picture, painted by Miss Goodin. The consolation, a candle, with clever verse of poetry attached, went to John Hays.

Refreshments of strawberry ice cream and angel food cake were served.

Those present were Misses Gladys Goodin, Bertha Dawna, Floy Bittling, Annie Hunter, Maggie Jones, Hattie Kimball, Lillian Solomon, Charlotte LeMay, Dolly Pelly, Bernice Benedict, Virgie Jolly, Ethel Jolly, Gladys Roberts of Texarkana and Allen of Ennis; Messrs. R. L. Hall, Clyde Lucas, Ollie O'Neill, Ladd, John Hays, Jessa Wilchen of Denison, Paul Kimball and Ray Kimball; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kimball.

Art Institute Graduates.
Miss Eva Randolph Dorchester of this city and Miss Myrtle McMillan of Corsicana were the Texas girls who were graduated from the Art Institute of Chicago last Friday.

Miss Dorchester graduated in the three year course in drawing, painting and sculpture. Miss McMillan received her diploma for a three year course in the normal department.

At the University.

The last German of the many enjoyable dances given during the year under the auspices of the University German Club occurred Monday night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, which was effectively decorated for the occasion. The color scheme of the floral embellishments observed an orange and white motif with gilded baskets of yellow centered daisies suspended from the chandeliers in the dance hall and brightening the tables in the reception rooms. The musicians' stand was banked with palms and ferns. The grand march was led by Mr. Otto Armstrong, the capable and popular president of the German Club, with Miss Ann Thornton, who was much admired in a dainty dancing frock of white mesaline veiled in silver-spangled net artistically embroidered in pearls. Her flowers were white carnations showered with sweet peas. The program was among the handsomest that have been given at any dance. The covers of heavy German silver embellished with the University seal and handsome relief designs. The cases for the young ladies held powder leaves and for the men cigarette papers. There were twenty regular dances and four extras. A dainty two-course supper was served during the intermission. The officers of the German Club the past winter have been as follows: Otto Armstrong, president; Charles Tips, vice president; John Abney, secretary-treasurer and directors, Tom Henderson, E. L. Fulton, H. E. Hardwicke, V. W. Taylor, Lingo Platier and L. C. Hall. About one hundred and fifty guests were present.—Sunday's Austin Statesman.

Sherman Visitors.

Mrs. James Biggs of Sherman accompanied by her daughter, Miss Mary Dale Biggs, have been in the city several days. The guests of Mrs. Biggs' father Major J. B. Young and her brother, H. D. Young. They will leave the latter part of the week for a short stay in Mineral Wells and then return to their home.

Mrs. Biggs and her daughter are both talented musicians, Miss Biggs being especially an artist with the violin. They have been very generous with their exceptional talents while in this city and those who have been favored by hearing them have been thoroughly captivated. Miss Biggs is a natural musician and those who have heard her interpretations of classical music with her violin declare there is certainly a great future for her.

Many social courtesies have been extended Mrs. Biggs and her daughter and they have made many friends in the city.—Stanford News-Tribune.

Picture Show Party.

In honor of Miss Marian Crawford of Little Rock, Arkansas, and Miss Gladys Goodin of Coalgate, Oklahoma, Miss Dolly Pelly entertained with a picture show party on Thursday evening.

Those who attended were Misses Gladys Goodin, Marian Crawford, Bernice Benedict, Mattie Miller, Julia Gaston and the hostess, Dolly Pelly; Messrs. Tally, M. M. Smith, Arthur McElreath, Luther Ladd, Milo Daniel of Denison and Harold Hudebrand.

Fads and Fashions.

A careful survey of the fashion situation shows beyond doubt that blouses, contrary to some predictions earlier in the year, enjoy the same amount of favor as in former years. Lingerie blouses have always an important place in the summer wardrobe and the fine blouse of this sort is as lovely as ever but while the popularity of the all white lingerie blouse remains, the blouse matching the costume has unquestionably made great inroads upon that popularity and narrowed the province of the lingerie models considerably.

There is a great variety of these matching blouses. They range from the simplest of chiffon or marquisette overblouses accompanied by plain gumpies to elaborate creations enriched by hand embroidery and real laces, etc. and the blouse of cotton marquisette or linen embroidered in color or figured in color is made to bring the lingerie blouse into line with the demand for the blouse to match the costume.

Some of these white blouses embroidered in color and blouses of striped or figured linen in white and color are altogether charming, but the marquisette models of the cheapest sort have appeared in such quantities that they have given a check to the vogue of the fine blouses of this character. Coarse marquisette embroidered by machine or with the most careless kind of hand embroidery is a charming thing. The strictly tailored waist as a rule has the high collar and long
