Pvt. Revolutionary War, Capt. Jacob Ten Eyck's Co., 1st Battalion, Somerset County Militia. For many years a ruling elder in this church.

The session of this church here erected this monument as a tribute of respect to the memory of a worthy member.

From The Descendants of David Howell: David was in America by 1754 and an account of his service in the American army during the French and Indian war was written by one of his grandsons. He married 24 Nov 1765 Phebe Coulter, daughter of Joseph Coulter and unknown. They resided in Bound Brook Somerset Co. NJ. During the Revolutionary War, their home and farmland was raided by the British in 1777 during the Battle of Bound Brook. Shortly after, David enlisted in the Somerset County Militia. After his enlistment, he operated an Inn and it is recorded by his grandson that David baked and furnished provisions to the army under George Washington while they were encamped nearby. He also worked as a mason and earned a good reputation for fine workmanship.
