

Sept. 21/05

My dear John:-

Your most valued letter at hand and I have to thank you for the invitation, which will be treated as you wish, so presume will go along from Sunday School.

I note that you are taking good advantage of the nights by studying.

Last night I was over fitting my suit, and also went to church although I did not practise.

To night I am at home writing this letter, but I did not get home until almost 9 o'clock.

What do you think of my boss keeping me so late? I felt pretty angry, but when I found your letter, it cheered me up.

I repeat what you say that you hope these days will fly. It always seems long to between times before seeing you again.

I feel pretty tired this evening, so I think I must close for this time, sending my best regards to the folks, but you keeping the best of it, I am as ever
Your own, Ruth
