My dear Boy-

My face just looks fine. I got a monkey's face and a pug's nose. Anyway the Dentist has taken down
The swollen a little
so expect to go to work
This afternoon

Can you guess what ma said? Well, she said a swollen jaw
cannot come from the wind, but that you
squeezed me too much.
Isn't she mean. She won't believe me if I
tell her no, but it is best to let her think what she wants, for we are not going to let every body know what we do or I say, now Ted isn't that right.

By the way Dave and
the bunch were left, "sit"
They also tried to get on the "East land" but could not, in fact they came later than we
did. They seem to have been more crowded

- than we, for the boys
had to take the girls
on their laps. Now
did not that feel fine
for five hours? I do not wonder that Dave
feels stiff this morning.
He felt worse tired than I did. What do think,
he did not come in
for long after I, so do you wonder.

Ma said we must go to our church next Sunday night, for they always asking where we are keeping ourselves.
Are you in for it?

Pa cannot get anyone
to take his place at Sunday School next Sunday, so it might be
that they will not take

The trip across the lake
after all, but anyway ~~I~~ don't you care, but come over and visit
your , for she will be lonesome anyway.

Will you?

I tetter ^{be} skidding down town, so must
close for this time
with my best LOVE
I remain as ever,

Goodman,

Kula

that is what my boy calls her.
