My dear John-

Words cannot express my rapture on finding your dear note this evening, and a letter from one, whom I am so pleased to hear from.

Well it was I

I have not the time to sew. I guess this don't interest you at all, so I guess it is no use saying any more about it.

Does this Hayrack party concern the girls? In other ~~the~~ words, are the boys going out without them. Anyway plenty
time.

Wash your fracture

abright who sent the postals.

Lorna and I are always looking for something attractive during lunch hour, so Monday ^{we} came across the postals. She also sent one to her friend (I guess it is).

The most we look for, is, different kinds of fancy work, pillows, etc.

I just love to see and buy pretty pieces, but the

This evening, and Hulda, it shall I call her Mrs Silya, asked me
to extend her gratitude for the present.

Am sorry that my
dear boy has been bothered with toothache, and hope that it has stopped, by this time, otherwise I will tell your doctor, when you come over,
but that is still more than three days.

It is now later than you say ^{you stopped writing} or it now being after 11:00 o'clock I think it best I close with my love, and many wireless XXX

I remain

Your devoted and loving

Ruth

Sept. 12-06.

Excuse
mistakes
for there are plenty
