My own John -

I guess you
will soon wonder whether or not you are going to receive a letter, but don't fret for I will not forget my dear boy.

It is now about 7 o'clock in the morning. I intend staying at home
to-day, my head is nearly splitting, so I will tend to the house while mother visits yours this afternoon.

Was to show pictures
last night, I could not get the picture.

Met Jennie, but poor
Martin, I have a feeling for him. He tried to speak, but it seems that Jennie does not care a snap. I spoke to him after I had left her, and he talks as if it is not right for her to go around with other boys without giving him notice.
Maybe he claimed ^{her} for good.
If she had promised him I do not wonder that he is sore. I do not know how matters stand

and do not want to, for it is no-one's business but theirs. He said a few more ^{things} that he wants me to find out, and will speak about it later.

which will be three more days, ~~just think~~

you speak about going to church Sunday night.

I won't promise. Fannie and Mr. Julian say they can't be over until 3:30 or 4 the latest, so there will be just a short time if we go. Will see when the time comes. That's the best I can give.

Now dear be good, and don't get hungry for a squeeze or a kiss

you ^{won't} get it this week from me, not unless you steal it from some-one else. Am I now getting mean but you know I say more than I really mean.

Excuse bad writing and I will remain this time with all love from

Your own

Oct. 25-26.

Ruth.

Can you guess ^{what} Dave does every night? He goes to the station and meets Ethel.

He is worse than any I have ever heard of. don't you think so? f
