

SUMMER FIRE RULES GO INTO EFFECT MAY 1

Utmost caution in use of any type of fire in fire hazard areas of the county was urged this week by officials charged with fire control responsibility. Strict no-smoking and other rules are announced by W. W. "Butch" Skinner, State Ranger in charge of San Bernardino County and Donald R. Bauer, Forest Supervisor, San Bernardino National Forest.

High fire hazard areas in the county and all of the Forest were posted May 1 with "No Smoking" signs. Rangers in an effort to save watershed and timber lands will enforce Sec. 9 and 11 of County Ordinance 533.

Smoking in the posted areas will be permitted only at improved campgrounds, habitations and posted smoking areas. Smoking in any moving vehicle or discarding of any burning substance is prohibited.

Residents of the foothill and mountain areas are urged to comply with Section 12 of Ordinance 533 by removal of all inflammable vegetation for a minimum distance of thirty feet around each building on their property by June 1st.

Special permits are required before building any type of outdoor fire in the high fire hazard areas. Permits may be obtained, free of charge in the foothill areas from the State Forest Fire Control Stations and within the San Bernardino National Forest from the nearest Ranger Station.

Wife Of "Desert Lampmaker" Dies

Margaret Jewett, wife of "Desert Lampmaker" Leroy Robert Jewett, passed away in her sleep Saturday night, April 25. Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon, April 28 at Wiefels & Son Chapel in Twentynine Palms, with burial in Twentynine Palms Cemetery. Rev. David Hansen officiated.

Her sister Miss Edith Rinell of Philadelphia and brother Eric Rinell of Celina, Ohio, attended the service.

Margaret Jewett was born June 5, 1898 in Shantung, China of Baptist Missionary parents from Sweden. She was educated in British schools in China and was a registered nurse, having taken her nurse's training at Mounds Hospital, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Returning to China she entered the Rockefeller Foundation where she became supervisor of nurses. There she met her husband L. R. Jewett, a patient. She lived in north China a number of years where her husband followed his profession of electrical engineer.

The Jewetts were in Honolulu during World War II and Mrs. Jewett was a member of the volunteer nurses and gave valuable service during the Pearl Harbor disaster.

She was a registered medical social worker for the Federal Government and for the State of California and gave many hours of volunteer nursing service.

The Jewetts came to Yucca Valley ten years ago and established the Desert Lampmaker Shop which has become widely known because of Margaret's artistic creations. She was a past president of Yucca Valley Woman's Club.

Besides her husband she leaves her mother Mrs. J. R. Rinell, Stockholm, Sweden; sister Miss Edith Rinell; brothers, Eric and Rev. Oscar and Rev. Egron Rinell, Baptist Missionaries in Japan.

L. Galindo Given P-TA Life Award

Loretta Galindo received recognition and congratulations from her sorority sisters for having been given the PTA Life Membership Award from Twentynine Palms High School at the meeting of Upsilon Zeta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held at the home of Mrs. Ken Carter April 22.

Miss Galindo is the first member of the faculty in Twentynine Palms to receive the award which is given for service to our young folks above and beyond the call of duty, the Sorority announced.

Bill Procter, director of Twentynine Palms Recreational Park, presented a most interesting and informative program. His subject was "Tools for the Art of Life — Action." He said that action is the result of thought, or energy of expression which creates a desire for recreational as well as cultural living, and one which keeps us physically alert.

He explained the recreational programs now in progress, and talked about plans for a full and varied program this summer for the different age groups. He stressed the importance of his department working for the people of the community through the schools, churches, and other organizations to provide better programs which would benefit all.

Lucy Thomas assisted Edie Carter as co-hostes.

He Picks Desert Berries By Gallon

At the rate George Wyatt is raising strawberries at his Panorama Heights home, he should be able to furnish Bagley's Market, where he holds forth in the produce department, with sufficient strawberries for all their customers, come strawberry shortcake time next year.

George has already picked 12 gallons of fragrant strawberries from his 10x12 foot plot, and expects five or six gallons more to ripen. The plants, set out two years ago, stand 12 to 14 inches high. Much of the crop he has frozen for use later in the season.

Can anybody do it? No, George admits, You have to have a special love for plants as well as a green thumb to grow "desert berries."
