

Blessed by having you as a son

- Some of most cherished memories are the ones with you

as was an unbelievable moment the fact that I had a son -

to pamper me by feet (I haven't changed)

to fight back by to cheer you in Chicago (nose pressed against window - crying heart out)

- So many memories of you remain in my mind.

- You always cheer for me, brought me all your love but I never felt you any best (conversations)

- Always very proud of you

~~As long as you continue to be a good~~
life to you in Missouri and by Godliness.
Always had good will toward you. At times I think I have had to remind you that there are bad guys out there.

Have had feelings hurt because you couldn't imagine people would judge you according to what you are rather than according to their prejudices.

And, as always, you have you priorities in good order. Godliness & Biblical discipline are more important to you than sectarian tradition.

Always a good heart
good will toward others (and my dear old things about you)

any way, you have helped me immensely
understand the fatherhood of God.

I am sure God suffers when we suffer

God's love toward us is enough to accept us fully.

There is no good thing that God
will withhold from us.

I can adopt God's attributes
ethically rather to you by prayer & by facts.

I pray for you constantly, & even when I wake up at night. I believe that by living a goodly life myself, I can claim
God's promises to answer those prayers

I hope to clear the byways of a thing that has to do with
